

Bring a Dem 2 Work Day

Are you a Democrat or Progressive candidate or elected official?

Do you support labor unions?

Are you a workers' rights

Yes? Yes? & Yes?

But...really?

Because we think Dems can do more for workers. To be clear, we get it's not easy to support workers in D.C. Republicans are blocking the PRO Act. Republican NLRB appointees are strangling workers' rights. And there are a few (should we say...Corporate) Dems who aren't helping much either.

But here's the good(ish) news. These agents of the status quo aren't the biggest threat to workers and our resurgent labor movement.

The biggest threat to workers in this country are bosses who know they can stop their workers from organizing with threats and bullying.

We're calling on all Dems

(electeds, candidates, youngs, and retirees)

to step up and join workers Where it matters most in their workplaces!

So, let's do something about it! Not with legislation that will never pass – but with real activism.

We – the Dems – Pledge:

We will stand by you. If you are feeling intimidated – call us.

If your bosses are glaring down at you and your colleagues whenever you are talking about wages – call us.

If you want help building a union – call us.

We are calling on every Democratic & Progressive candidate and elected official across the country to do the same.

Pledge to stand by workers right now.

Promise to commit at least 10 days a year to Organizing campaigns.

Promote these campaigns across your digital platforms.
